Whiskey 5¢ Bottle!

24 Samples $1.20 Express Prepaid

People who buy whiskey, brandy and gin by mail always send the money in advance and never have any chance to test the quality. After the shipment arrives, the buyer, if not pleased, prefers to drink up the adulterated "stuff" rather than go to the trouble of re-shipping and demanding back the smallest refund. This is not right! Every citizen should protect himself against fraud and misrepresentation and demand value received for every dollar invested. To show what we can give in exchange for your hard earned money, we offer on receipt of this ad. and $1.20, to ship by express prepaid to any place in the U. S. 24 Sample Bottles (only 5¢ each) of all our brands. OLD N. C. DISTILLERY, JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

Important Business Change.

An important business change that escaped the Telegraph at the time was the recent purchase of the books of the Bradford County Abstract Company by Tax Collector G. W. Alberman. Mr. Alderman already has the work of bringing the books down to date under way, and will continue until he has a full and complete system of abstract books, covering every parcel of land in the county. He has a competent office force and is prepared now, as he will be at all times in the future, to furnish abstracts on short notice.

Merchandise at Cut Prices.

They have a half-page advertisement in the Telegraph this week and quote many prices that will be sure to interest economical buyers.

Sampson City.

The people of this section are living at their ease and enjoying life as the old year is passing out and the new year is soon coming in and they will begin farming again with a smile of sunshine. Sampson has an auto now and it is not altogether a back number. H. P. Jones, of Lake Kerr, Fla., has returned to his work again. He has been visiting relatives and friends at Sampson and Worthington Springs for the past month. Mr. Jones is very much interested in farming and thinks of buying a farm in Bradford county, as that is his old home.

There will be a Sunday school Christmas tree here. We hope the little boys and girls will be regular in their attendance, so that Santa Claus will enjoy coming with his sack full of presents and toys.

Don't forget the Baptist church here every second Saturday and Sunday in each month.

Methodist Church Services.

On Friday at 7 p. m. Rev. J. T. Nixon will hold the fourth and last quarterly meeting of the year at the Methodist church. A full official attendance is urged by the pastor, for there is business of importance. Visitors and members of the church invited.

On the 11th inst. the pastor will preach the last sermon of the conference year and the board of stewards will make their final report. Every member of the church is exhorted to attend this last Sunday. Those who worship with us will be cordially welcomed.
